

PROJECT NAME: Teachers for Tomorrow

RECIPIENT: Weber State University

LOCATION: Ogden, Utah

PURPOSE: Weber State University, Davis School District, Weber School District, Ogden City School District, and Morgan School District have long partnered to address teacher education shortages. Weber State University will expand the pipeline of interested teacher education prospects and eliminate high rates of attrition that occur among potential teachers during the first two years of college. Funding would allow the university to offer additional financial assistance to students, increase support for advising and outreach as part of the Teachers for Tomorrow program in area high schools and at the university, and expand curriculum offerings for freshmen and sophomores interested in teacher education.

AMOUNT: $925,000